

DONALD E. CAMERON (1901-1967) PAPERS ARCHIVES FINDING AID

[Processed by W. E. Baxter, 22 January 1984.]

BIOGRAPHY

Dr. Donald Ewen Cameron was born in Bridge of Allen, Scotland, in December of 1901. He attended Stifling High School 1908-1913; Glasgow Academy 1913-1919; and the University of Glasgow where he received an MB in 1924. In 1925, he received the diploma in psychological medicine from the University of London. He received the M.D. from Glasgow in 1936.

Cameron started his career at the Royal Mental Hospital in Glasgow under D. K. Henderson and the influence of Adolf Meyer. In 1926, he went to the Phipps Clinic for 2 years on the Henderson Research Scholarship in Psychiatry. While he was with the Boston Psychopathic Hospital, he was induced to go to the Provincial Hospital in Manitoba, Canada. He oversaw the reception unit there and organized the mental health work of the western part of the province. From 1936 to 1938, he was at Worcester. From there he went to Albany Medical College as a professor of neurology and psychiatry. In 1943 he went to the McGill University. Cameron was professor of psychiatry and chairman of the department at McGill University and director of the Allen Memorial Hospital. On retirement from McGill, he went to the Veterans Administration Hospital in Albany, New York.

He was president of several organizations: the American Psychiatric Association, the Quebec Psychiatric Society, the Canadian Psychiatric Association, the World Psychiatric Association, the American Psychopathological Association, and the Society of Biological Psychiatry. He published many books, articles and papers. He also delivered several speeches.

His accomplishments were many: The Day Hospital was his idea; he encouraged the formation of the Assembly of District Branches of the APA while he was president; and he organized the Third World Congress of Psychiatry which gave birth to the World Psychiatric Association.

SCOPE AND CONTENTS

The papers of Donald Ewen Cameron came to the Archives of the American Psychiatric Association in three groups: two in 1977 and the last in 1981. All three have been merged in processing to form a single record group. The collection totals 5 linear feet and is comprised of 4 series: articles and speeches, 1930-1967; miscellaneous papers, 1934-1967; the American Psychiatric Association, 1949-1967; and the World Psychiatric Association, 1950-1967.
